Press Release from Steve Lewis, Fulford School Head Teacher and CEO of South York MAT

Steve Lewis, Headteacher of Fulford School and CEO of South York Multi Academy Trust says
“I am delighted that Fulford School has been recognised by The Sunday Times Schools Guide.

For the past two years we have been awarded the State Secondary School of the North.
This year it is a great honour to be named

THE SUNDAY TIMES COMPREHENSIVE SCHOOL OF THE DECADE

We are a school rooted in our community and committed to comprehensive education so it is particularly pleasing for this to be recognised. We are proud to represent all the fantastic comprehensive schools up and down the country who work tirelessly to support and educate pupils irrespective of their starting points.

Fulford is a fantastic school. It is successful due to its highly motivated pupils, talented and committed staff and supportive parental/carers body

Over the past decade many members of our community, teachers, leaders, governors and trustees have shaped our school and I would like to thank them all for the contributions they have made.

Trustees, governors and our staff have great ambition for the school. We will continue to work, aligned to our values, for the benefit of all. Enabling everyone to be the best that they can be and make the choice, at every opportunity, to do the right thing.”
